Support to Current Leadership and No to Foreign Intervention

The Philsaga Mining Company continued to lead throughout the years with responsible mining practices, environmental stewardship, and community engagement. However, this status quo is on the brink of compromise with the recent attempts of X64 Limited to utilize their 40% shares to remove the current president by withholding the payment of one shipment to disrupt the company's operation. Atty. Raul C. Villanueva responded firmly, "Filipinos are not your dummies." This drove the passion of the communities and employees to respond with an overwhelming solidarity movement in response to the outsiders' audacity within peaceful boundaries.

Manobo Fights for Peace of their Ancestral Domain

The Manobo tribe sentiments emerged as a powerful force in support of the current leadership of Philsaga Mining Company. Over 1316 community members have come together to defend their ancestral land, protect their cultural heritage, and ensure that the benefits of the mining industry are shared equally with the local community. Hawodon Taogdan Rolito S. Peñaloga, Sr. Municipal Tribal Chieftain and BMADMCI - Chairman, made it clear that they will not stand for foreign interference in their community and is willing to bet his life in fighting to protect the rights of their land.

The TIGERs Protect their Den

On the morning of April 3, 2023, employees were gathered together around the Philsaga Mining Company mine site, arousing questions of doubts that hovered around the X64 issue, which were soon cleared up by Jaime Pizarro, the PMC labor union president. He raised awareness about the threats of foreign investors to their jobs and must not be allowed to take control of the company at the expense of the workers and the community. "Keep the company going, keep supporting sustainable employment, and peace to us all!" he stated.

A WAVE OF SUPPORT

The Philsagan Way of Showing Oneness

Atty. Raul C. Villanueva is the president of Philsaga Mining Corporation – a strong pillar of support for Philsaga High School Foundation, Inc. to continue pursuing and providing holistic quality education to its students. He is also the school's Chairman of the Board of Trustees. RCV, as he is fondly known to Philsagans, has opened new portals of PHSFI to assimilate to today's modern way of the school system.

He never hesitates to be of help. Neither does he refuse whatever the PHSFI asks within reason. He thinks wisely with boundless possibilities when securing what would benefit the school, and PHSFI can't help but be pleased with his decision-making skills.

He has taken the captain's wheel with excellent skills; nevertheless, as he takes the lead, waves of struggles, issues, and concerns bombard him, and the crew is willing to back him up.

Philsagans gathered amidst the scorching sun on the third of April. And with compact unity, they came with a wave of support, showing oneness and invigorating the vibe of the idea that whatever happens, Philsagans are here, supporting the endeavor of the captain. Without hesitation, without asking why and without any doubts, the crew helped the captain, for they knew it would be much more challenging without him.

Once again, the Philsagans have proven that when the ship's captain faces the big waves upon conquering the ocean, the crew could be of enough sturdy support, willing to become a great source of motivation to beat the tides of life.

Philsaga Mining Hospital

Philsaga Mining Corporation is the only mining company nationwide with a hospital that caters to its employees, their dependents, and even the people of the surrounding communities. Its existence has continued throughout the years because of Atty. Raul C. Villanueva's generosity.

Under his leadership, the laboratory was equipped with high-technology machines that upgraded from I to level II hospital-type of clinical laboratory services. The digital X-ray system, which is not usually available in an infirmary-type hospital, has been provided, which increases the doctor's efficiency with the correct diagnosis of the patient's illnesses in effectively administering treatment to the patients.

Aside from the central facilities, Atty. Villanueva takes heed of the hospital's needs, from the organizational structure of personnel, medicines, medical materials, and food supplies. Even during the COVID-19 period, the hospital survived due to his 100% management support—the reason why the staff was able to tend to the patients to almost perfect recovery.

PHILSAGA

You are not alone, President. Everyone in the Medical Department supports your dreams and visions for the hospital. The non-profit hospital that returns a few pesos from PhilHealth versus the million pesos monthly maintenance expenses receives the continued support it needs with the employees and its constituents in mind.

LIVELIHOOD PROGRAM

Break Ground on 4-Hectare Calamansi Farm Project

PMC-MMPRC Foundation Inc. and Sinug-ang Peoples Organization (SPO) are proud to announce the groundbreaking ceremony for their joint project, a 4-hectare calamansi farm aimed at uplifting the lives of low-income households in Sinug-ang. The project, valued at 1.6M pesos and funded under PMC's Corporate Social Responsibility, will benefit 45 families of the SPO and generate significant economic activity in the community.
